NO CHANGE IN COACH

Dougherty to Continue in

TO SECURE AN ASSISTANT

George Washington Athletic Council
Meets and Decides to Retain Present
Incumbent, but Votes to Give Him an Assistant-Champion Rifle
Team Awarded an Insignia.

An important meeting of the George Washington Athletic Council was held last night to consider the advisability of retaining Coach Ben Dougherty as an assistant coach. After a lengthy session, it was decided to retain Dougherty as coach, inasmuch as the argument was brought forth that Dougherty had hardly been allowed sufficient time to whip a team into shape, owing, it is claimed, that candidates for the team had not shown up regularly for practice.

Those having the football affairs of the Hatchettes at heart made the plea that if the team expected to go through a successful season, an assistant coach should be appointed at once, and a committee, composed of Chairman McBain, of the Athletic Council, Manager Bill Sommers, Capt. Roy Alston, and Ben Dougherty, was appointed for the purpose of securing an assistant coach.

The failure of the Hatchettes to make a better showing against Western Maryland last Saturday was due, it is claimed, to the fact that Coach Dougherty had only been able to work with the back field three days prior to the game.

At the meeting last night a petition signed by twenty members of the football squad favored the retention of Dougherty as coach. Letters were awarded to V. B. Cash, A. R. Calder, S. F. Wenderoth, H. E. Skinner, C. H. Butman, and J. R. Fehr.

McNULTY WILL PLAY.
Coach Newman Busy Trying to Strengthen His Back Field.

Coach Newman, of Georgetown, had his men working hard yesterday afternoon. About thirty were out, and he had no trouble in getting a full scrub team to line up against the varsity for a thirty-minute scrimmage.

Waldron, at full, and Carlin, at right half, were feeling a little sore after their game last Saturday, and were not in the line-up. Vlyman and Carrigan took their places, and showed up well against the second eleven. Stuart was also on the side line, while Connolly took his place at end. McNamara, right end on the scrubs, is making a good impression in practice, and he should be seen in the regular line-up before long.

After his share of hard luck, good news was announced to the football contingent yesterday, when Joe McNulty stated that he had received word from home that he would be allowed to play again. McNulty is one of the best backs Georgetown ever had, and his presence in the game will help the team materially. He is very fast, and besides being a consistent ground gainer, is a great broken-field runner.

Barriello, who has been out of practice for the last week, has so arranged his hours that he will now be able to come out regularly.

A new man to report was Warren, who formerly played on the Kingston Prep School team. He is a big fellow, and very fast, and will be tried in the back field probably.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Krentzlin, of Western High, is out of the game with a bad ankle, sustained while playing against Tome last Saturday. He is the heaviest man in the opening line-up, having the better of Scofield by only a pound, but Western proved yesterday that he did not count.

Mickey Guy is in his old form again. He kept the Preps on the jump with aggressive play on the offensive and broke through three hundred yards of interference and dropped Golden for a loss of five yards, when the junior collegians were in danger of scoring.

Central will feel the loss of its captain to a great extent this year, for young Macdonald was one of the most promising quarterbacks of the High Schools. His absence has cast a gloom over the team, but a strong effort is being made to break in Thierkenhead in the quarter in time to put up a strong game against Episcopal Saturday.

The single morning session has started at Business, and it will mean new life for the football team. Most of the first team had to go in the afternoon, and this kept them from practice. The new plan was started Monday, and a squad of thirty-two men reported to the coach.

The game between Business and the Maryland Athletic Club Reserves, which was scheduled for to-day, was called off on account of the lack of opportunity for sufficient practice for the former team. In place of the game, the first team will line up against the scrubs in two ten-minute halves.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR CENTRAL.

O Streeters Lose Macdonald-Hamilton Chosen Leader.

Malcolm Macdonald, captain of the football team at Central High School, was badly hurt in the game between the "vets" and the regulars last Saturday, and will be unable to play again this season. In one of the scrimmages he injured both ligaments in his right leg, and was forced to retire from the game. Later it was learned that he would play no more this year, and yesterday the team met to elect a successor. George Hamilton, who is now playing half back, was chosen to replace Macdonald.

This is the third captain to be elected this year at Central. Gripp, who made such a name last year on the team, was chosen at the close of the term, but was unable to return to school, and Macdonald was chosen to take his place.

PLAY PREPS TO STANDSTILL

Western High Holds Georgetown
Youngsters to No Score.

Plucky Little Red and White Team
Puts Up Gallant Fight Despite Heavy Odds.

Outweighed and playing with a weakened line-up, the Western High School football team played the Georgetown Preps to a standstill on Georgetown Field yesterday afternoon. Score, 0 to 0.

Despite the loss of Krentzlin, the heaviest man in their line-up, Western gained a brilliant victory in that they kept the heavier team from scoring in the first half, and in the second carried the pigskin to within scoring distance three times, on two of which Guy failed in attempts to kick a goal from the field.

The first half was played entirely in the visitors' territory, but each time the Preps advanced the ball beyond the 10-yard line, the plucky little Red and White team held them for downs, and Upman booted the ball out of danger.

In the second half Western took a brace and outplayed their rivals in every point of the game. They worked the outside kick successfully, gaining from 15 to 20 yards at each attempt, and it was due largely to this that they got the ball past the 15-yard line three times during the half.

Capt. Guy was responsible for his team's showing. He ran back a punt for 15 yards through a broken field, and his ability to break up well-formed interference was exceptional. Scofield was also strong on the defensive.

The Preps were without Capt. Kerwin, who is reported to be in the infirmary, and their playing was woefully slow, and they were unable to advance beyond the 10-yard line. Active as Capt. Kerwin, Miller proved strong in the back field, and Golden, the right half, was fast in his end runs.

KETCHELL IN SHAPE

Montana Cowboy Will Weigh
Close to 175 Pounds.

JOHNSON BETTING FAVORITE

Experts Now Think that Stanley
Will Be Able to Last Fifteen
Rounds Against Burly Negro for Heavy-weight Championship Saturday-Interesting Statistics.

New York, Oct. 12.—If the reports from the rival training camps are reliable, there will not be such a great difference in weights between Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchell when they begin fighting at Colma Saturday afternoon. Johnson insists that he will not scale more than 165, while Ketchell declares that he will weigh more than 175. With an advantage of about twenty pounds in height and twenty pounds in bulk, Johnson will not have such an overwhelming clinch as he expected when he signed articles of agreement more than five months ago.

In fact, taking these comparisons as based upon fact, Johnson and Ketchell are as well matched as the participants in other battles for heavy-weight honors in years gone by. Fitzsimmons was under 160 when he stopped Peter Maher, 190, in two fights, and won the title from James J. Corbett, 135, at Carson City. Fitz was twenty pounds lighter, than Sharkey when he knocked the latter out at Coney Island in quick time, and was forty pounds lighter than Jeffries when the boxermailed beat him for the championship in the same ring.

Jeffries Outweighed Corbett.
When Corbett whipped Sullivan the latter had twenty-five pounds the better of the weights, and when Corbett was knocked out in twenty-three rounds by Jeffries the latter was thirty pounds heavier. Kid McCoy was twenty pounds lighter than Sharkey, when the sailor stowed him away, and Olcott was thirty pounds lighter and six inches shorter than Choyinski the night he knocked the daylights out of the star of California.

The result of every one of these fights was brought about by the punch that nullified strength and produced a knockout.

For that reason Ketchell has a chance to upset Johnson with similar tactics, although experts who believe he can win are in the minority. Veteran followers of pugilism who have seen all the champions since Sullivan whipped Kilrain have repeatedly declared that Ketchell, as a slugger, has never been equalled, and by Fitzsimmons. Taking this as a basis for argument, the coming fight is regarded as a question of Ketchell's ability to land a knockout blow either on the point of the jaw or in the stomach.

If he can reach the other side with a square punch delivered with all the strength at his command it is believed that he will topple the negro just as he dropped O'Brien.

It is admitted that because of Johnson's wonderful defensive tactics Ketchell will find it a most difficult task to get home a smash that will result in a knockout.

How Johnson May Win.
If Johnson succeeds in blocking Ketchell's attack and at the same time fails to score a knockout in twenty rounds it will be further proof that the negro cannot hit and that he is simply a first-class boxer. A month ago California sporting men were willing to bet that Ketchell would not last eight rounds with Johnson, but now they have increased the limit to fifteen rounds with an offer of even money. Johnson will carry a wealth of smart money on him at 2 to 1 that he will be the winner.

Prisco is all worked up over the mill, and rumors are thick. It was reported that the fight would take place at the Hotel Hamilton, but it is now believed that it will be held at the Hotel Hamilton.

The first two Boston men to come up in the locals' half of the evening were quickly retired, McConnell on strikes, and Lord on a fly to McConnell. Two strikes and a fly to McConnell, and a bounding over the head, rolled to the fence. Speaker dashed around the bases and, as the ball was relayed toward the plate, Schiel moved down toward third, the feet of Speaker passing him as the ball found over his head. Boston out and outplayed the Giants, the latter being unable to connect with Hall's slow ones at the proper moment. Score:

V. P. I. TEAM IN TOWN.

Bocock's Eleven on Way to Princeton Practices on G. U. Field.

The football team representing the Virginia Polytechnic Institute stopped over in Washington yesterday morning, and for an hour went through signals on Georgetown field. They left in the afternoon for Princeton, where they play the Tigers to-day.

Branch Bocock, captain and quarter back of Georgetown's football team in 1905, is coach of the Southerners. He has several new men on the team this year who have not had much experience, but they are all a husky bunch and expect to give Princeton a hard battle.

Emory Hodgson, who played with Georgetown three years ago, is still in the line-up of the Virginians. Last year he scored the four points against Princeton by a place kick, and it would not be at all surprising if he duplicated the trick again this year.

JAMAICA BOOKIES ARE RAIDED
Sleuths Arrest Six Layers and Cause Small-sized Panic.

Betting Ring Cleared by Mounted Policemen at Race Track—Crowd Scampered to Lawn.

New York, Oct. 12.—Persons who speculate on the races were thrown into a small sized panic at the Jamaica track to-day when Police Inspector Kelley and a force of plain-clothes men raided the betting ring and arrested, among others, George Rose, Tom Shaw, William Shaw, Rod. McMahon, Roger McDermott, and Charles Cohen, charged with violating the law.

There seemed to be much mystery as to the immediate cause of the raid which was started by the appearance of several mounted policemen in the betting shed, and the calling out of the reserves from Jamaica.

A half hour before the first race it was rumored there would be trouble. Not a layer quoted odds, and not an oral bet was accepted. The jockeys were announced and the crowd was becoming impatient when five minutes before the horses were called from the paddock the layers began to accept wagers in the middle of the ring Inspector Kelley's sleuths circled among the speculators, but there was nothing doing until after two races had been run.

A sleuth then stepped up to George Rose, the millionaire race-track owner and bookmaker, and told him he was under arrest. Another detective thrust his hand into the coat pocket of one of Tom Shaw's men and drew forth a bunch of papers. Shaw was quickly grabbed, and in a few moments the mounted police clattered over the brick pavement.

"Clear the betting ring!" ordered Inspector Kelley and Capt. Wendell, whereupon the crowd scampered out upon the lawn.
